Dan Wolff, inventor and entrepreneur behind TickEase, Inc. spent over one year in the design and development process. Dan is an accomplished suburban deer expert and tick prevention specialist. He spent the last 20 years thinking about and dealing with the problems associated with ticks. As a parent of two boys (and two dogs!) living in an area with a high tick population, Dan is certainly no stranger to the dangers they bring!

After careful thought, and painstaking effort, he developed a much improved tick removal tool called TickEase. It's designed to help reduce the risk of tick-borne illnesses like Lyme Disease. It easily, safely and effectively removes ticks from people and pets.
